In the upper right corner, you can click on VIEW AS SLIDESHOW to view the entire bucket of photos as a slideshow. The most recently uploaded photos will display first.

You can also scroll to the BOTTOM of the main page of a Flickr site, and navigate forward by pages. Each subsequently page displays the next-to-last uploaded photos.

If Flickr is one big bucket of photos,
how can you find specific incidents
or events? There are two ways.

You can click ARCHIVES at the top of the page, and then browse by the date the photos were TAKEN or UPLOADED.

You can also click a photo SET or COLLECTION on the right side of a Flickr site. Those are groups of photos that the Flickr site owner-- such as Lee-- has hand-picked and grouped together.

You can also locate a photo SET by clicking SETS at the top of the page.
