

Grinnin' Fool

07/03/08 105 W, 1 I - + 18 - 11

Shuffling through some print photos finds this, Firefighter Michael J. Legeros posing with Engine 19. That's the last of the open cabs, a 1968 American LaFrance with shop-built canopy and acrylic windows attached with velcro. Observe absence of either air horns or modern siren. Crossing Capital Boulevard against traffic was a trial, with the nose siren screeching, the horn beep beeping, and the eagle-topped bumper bell ringing furiously. And if memory serves, the light bar was a new addition. Single beacon was atop just weeks earlier. The photo is dated, say, September 1989. About four months after graduation. Look Ma, I'm a fireman! Click to enlarge:

Name: (real name preferred)
E-mail: (optional)
Web Site: (optional)

Remember personal info?

- Yes
- No

Comment: / Textile

Comment moderation is enabled on this site. This means that your comment will not be visible on this site until it has been approved by an editor.

To prevent spam we require you to answer this silly question

What are the FIRST TWO LETTERS of the word 'fire'?

\(Register your username / Log in\)