Speaking of Civil Defense and rescue services, Travis Loy passed along these photos recently. Clayton Rescue Squad dated April 13, 1969. You all with the photos and the history need to get together, compile your images, and publish a book. It's easy, just takes a little while. Twelve or more months. And I will happily give tips through the entire process. (Easy for me to say, with two books under my belt!) Anyway, keep the old photos coming! Click to enlarge:
