SECOND DAY.

Long before the rising of the sun every fireman was astir, making ready the apparatus for the grand parade. It was an imposing sight to see the floats loaded down with the fair sex, vieing with each other, seeing who could look the sweetest, and the young men members of the different companies in line with their bright, gay uniforms on, seeing which should win the prize for the largest and best looking company.

Promptly at the appointed hour the line was formed on the Main street in the following order:

PARADE FORMATION.

Platoon of Mounted Police.

Durham Cornet Band, 20 strong.

Officers N. C. S. F. A. in carriages.

Mayor and City Council and visiting Mayors in carriages.

Delegates N. C. S. F. A. in carriages.

Then came the visiting Fire Companies, with Atlantic S. F. E. Co., of Newberne, in the lead, the rear being brought up by the Goldsboro Department.

After marching through the principal streets, the companies were disbanded by the steamers drawing up to the cisterns to prepare for "Quick Steam from Start to Finish" Contest:

A protest was entered by the Nozzle Judge claiming the nozzle man of the Atlantic team screwed up the nozzle to the required number of threads after water was running out the end of the nozzle.

The Executive Committee and Judges were called together and after investigation found as follows:

GOLDSBORO, N. C., July 28, 1898.

The decision of the Judges in the Championship Reel Race, which was contested by one of the Judges, charging that the nozzle man continued to screw up the nozzle after the water started, the same being continued to be screwed contrary to the rules governing said race.

The final decision of the Judges is that the Atlantic Reel Team, of Newberne, be ruled out and not entitled to time.
